

His Eyez

God's Woman...She is her man's Prize Possession

I love my man...he is into me...not because of the movement of my hips...or the swag of my mouth that can sink ships...nor for the softness of my hair...or my ability to create his special lair..it's not because of the color of my mocha latte skin...or even the fact that I'm so into him...but he sees me for who I truly am...and for that fact alone I love him....and do you know why he loves me? For I can stand in position, pray and cover him in times of need....when he is weary he can come to me and spiritually feed.... and when the tests and trials knock at our door....and satan's minions stand in our face and roar....I will pray that he continues to find our way when life's storms arise...but more than all of that..I am his prize possession because I have God's eyez...

Words from the author - How this book came about

Dear Sis,

Herein lies a model of prayers for you to pray for and over your husband; whether you are married or are anticipating marriage, this book of prophetic prayers will assist you in getting into position to become the best wife that you can be for it will create an atmosphere of prayer first and foremost. See so many times we as women want God to change the man; but these prayers are prayers where God is going to work on you first, and I am a living witness and proof of these facts.

Sis, this is what I want YOU to do:

Place, i.e. insert the Name of your Husband in the blank and speak with boldness as you pray these prayers. If you are not married, use Dear Future Husband.

This book manifested itself prophetically from an assignment that God gave me on September 10, 2010.

Foreword for eBOOK:

I am sharing a portion of the book because I realize women overall need to start prophetically speaking into their own lives. There is more to this particular book, but I felt the need to share ten days of prayer prior to the actual publishing of the book. However, after re-reading part of my foreword God is speaking to let me know that I need to add in Day 11 which deals with Inadequacy.

Here's a portion of what I wrote for the original book. Just be patient sis...I KNOW part of this book might seem jagged; but the rest will unfold in due time. Isn't that is how God deals with us; a bit at a time? Often we get impatient (you can add me to that number) and typically ruin the process that God is taking us through. I'm so grateful that He continues to show us love in spite of OURSELVES! Thus I have learned to listen and obey and realize I am only a vessel...HIS VESSEL. So as you read I speak clarity and understanding and a shift in your spirit as God begins to manifest Himself to YOU! I declare that every spirit that is invading your past and present must stand down as God begins to minister to your soul to move you prophetically into HIS realm of His design and the destiny that HE designed specifically for you in Jesus Name! Amen!

Foreword for book:

What was also interesting on these two particular days was I was dealing with a spirit of inadequacy in the wee hours of the morning. Sis it had gripped me like a vice. Have you ever had that feeling? It's like you lose all sense of control even though you KNOW who you are, what you have accomplished and where you need to go to continue the manifestation of your destiny. Well God used my friend Sean to return some vitality to me by confirming what God had given me. You know how the enemy comes to buffet us in the spirit and sometimes we lose focus of what we've been called to do and what to do. I immediately became aware that I must remain consistent and constant even though I did not have all the answers but this was part of MY JOURNEY to write – God would take care of the rest.

As I continued to write it hit me that the spoken word in the forefront of this book was given September 3, 2010 in the early am hours. God gave me about one line which I placed in my email/iPHONE. As I sat down to develop what was given it took me approximately 20 minutes to write what your eyes have read; and I know and have declared it has been placed prophetically in YOUR spirit for all eternity. This spoken word just flows from above and as my own eyes gazed on the finished product I was astounded for it was not the typical level of poem I would usually write - - I KNEW it was given from above. I just didn't know at the time that it would be placed in a book...THIS BOOK until weeks later on October 3, 2010.

Day 1 - Change

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me what I need to do to change in regards to what my husband needs from me. I may not always understand the process that you are sending my way in regards to my marriage to_____; but more than anything I want to be in your divine will, and to that I am aware I need to be totally submitted unto you first and foremost.

Lord our family needs change and as I share my gifts with my husband (and children) I ask that you release me spiritually to become the woman of God that YOU intended me to be, not my own personal thought process or what other's have spoken over me but the true woman that you designed before the foundation of the world. Please increase my knowledge and transfer wealth of understanding into my spirit for a life-changing substance from above; and with that understanding I can break through the barriers of brokenness and pain and experience the release that can only come from above. Continue to change me that I can be multiplied in Him as a true vessel of Christ to experience a freedom like never before.

Day 2 – Clarity

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask that you give me clarity in regards to every aspect of my life; my faith, my love, my understanding of you and my (upcoming/pending) marriage. The enemy would desire that I can't see my way clearly and desires me to be confused, disorientated and fearful when it comes to my life and my relationships/marriages; but Lord I speak against every design of dysfunction. Any fences of destruction I speak to and break by the power and the blood of the Lamb. I affirm that clarity will be a part of my understanding and it rests in my faith in God.

Day 3 – Clarity/Generational Curses

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you show me the areas in my life that are still under the bondage of generational curses. Give me the understanding and show me what behavior is me (my personality) and what might be laced with traces of those who have come before me. Any spirits that have entered my life through my generational lineage or doors I have opened I shut each one now in Jesus name. I bind every wicked force of darkness that comes to hinder my progress and growth in you and rebuke the hand of the enemy on my life and my husband and those in my family. Any generational curse(s) that were spoken inappropriately and wayward curse(s) I stop those forces now and for the generations that follow me. I come against all sexual, unclean, tormenting, confusing spirits and speak peace and clarity into the atmosphere. Your word says that whatever we bind on earth shall be bound in heaven. Matthew 16:19 and I am standing upon your word in Jesus Name Amen!

I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven."

Day 4 – Love

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me what I need to do to totally love _____ with an unconditional love. Please help me to understand that when I place his needs before mine I am adhering to the word to become a proper Ephesians 5 wife. Lord even when I become selfish by looking at each adverse situation that is affecting our marriage help me not to see what he may not be doing to lead our family properly and effectively; but continue to help me keep my focus on you. YOU are the epitome of unconditional love for you sent your son to die on the cross for our sins and in doing so become a model of love for me and my family.

Day 5 – Honesty and Transparency

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me what I need to do to be honest and transparent before my husband. Lord, I realize it is with you first that I must bare my soul to understand that I become worthy through and by your blood that was shed on the cross and that I must first come to you to receive understanding of even how to live a life of transparency. Lord continue to keep my cup overflowing with YOUR Love that I might give to others. Continue to teach me during my personal encounters with you who YOU are; for you are my example of UNCONDITIONAL love; and that love permits me to forgive others as you have forgiven me.

Day 6 - Pastor-ship

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me what I need to do to be the kind of wife that supports her husband as he ministers to others. The ability to motivate and inspire others is a true gift of not our own abilities but abilities that reside and come from above. Lord, I ask that as my husband continues to pour out to others that you will fill him back up and more so teach me how to love him throughout the entire process as you create a three-fold cord in our marriage.

Day 7 - Prophetic Mantle

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me what I need to do to be cognizant of your divine will in my life and the life of my husband. Lord there are many who believe that prophetic gifts are not from you and many who believe they should be used for their own accord. But today, Lord I ask that you teach me how to stand before you that I might understand that it basically is for the propagation of experiencing the mighty and glorious power of YOU! Lord, if I lack in faith in this area I ask for increase, if I do not understand I ask for understanding. Lord teach me to remain humble before you as you send increase in this area into my life and the life of my husband.

Day 8 - Fear of Rejection

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me what I need to be; and how to be aware of the fear of rejection in my life and that of my husband. No one likes rejection, but teach me to understand that often the enemy uses that as a weapon to keep wives from truly loving their husbands; and for husbands to withhold from their wives. Lord your word tells us that perfect love casts out all fear; so it is with this understanding that I willing submit to the leadership of my husband. Teach him all he needs to know to understand me and how to treat me accordingly.

Day 9 - Anger

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me what I need to know about anger in my own life. Often anger is a response to my disappointment; hence my reactions may not always be appropriate or Godly in manner and or actions. So Lord I ask for assistance by you teaching me discipline, balance and learning not to allow the enemy an entry way into my life through my anger. In addition, Lord I need your help when my husband expresses his anger; for I need to understand his reactions might need to be charged to his head and not his heart. This exponent often ties in to the fear of rejection so Lord I bind all inappropriate spirits in both our lives as we continue to learn to walk as one.

Day 10 - Humble Servant

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me to be a woman of humility for true power lies in the discipline of humility and not of one's ego. Lord my ego and that of my husband's cannot compete with each other. Therefore, I thank you for my ability to submit to him and the process for our lives. Lord I place all self-interest, self-awareness and self- thought process at your feet to be mastered appropriately.

Day 11 - Fear of Inadequacy

Dear Lord, as I lay before you I ask you to teach me how to combat the feelings of inadequacy that the enemy tries to send my way. It is with awareness that life battles have a way of tiring my spirit and it would appear those are the times most when I feel inadequate. However, Lord you have told us through your word that I am more than a conqueror which means not only can I conquer my fears but I can stand when the forces of hell rise up against me. Lord I thank you for complete balance in my life, in my mind and in my spirit. I rebuke every feeling and spirit of inadequacy in my life and the atmosphere surrounding me in Jesus Name. Amen!

Sis, my prayers are with you and I appreciate each of you for your love, encouragement and support.

Seek to know that you might grow....go in peace.
